

Dear Mr Farquhar -

I hope that Douglas was able to stay with his mother till the end. The poor dear has not enjoyed living for some time and also told me over a year ago that there was nothing to help her. This way is sad but had she lingered on alone the situation would have been much worse. Seems unfair that we older folks could not enjoy more care free happiness.

L. M.

I sincerely hope that you have managed to beat this old flea bug by now. So far I have the same old

This brings you

That you won't h

Until you're up

Feeling sim

Handline M

Deaths

ELIZABETH AGNES FARQUHAR

On January 23, 1970 at the Winnipeg General Hospital, Elizabeth Agnes, aged 80 years of 129 Campbell Street, widow of Alexander Farquhar, who predeceased her on January 13th, 1970. Funeral service will be held in the Thomson Funeral Chapels, Broadway at Furby, Monday, January 26th at 1.00 p.m. The Rev. Dr. C. Earle Gordon officiating. Interment in the family plot, Old Kildonan Cemetery. Courtesy parking west of the funeral chapels.

Mrs. Farquhar was born in St. Croix, Nova Scotia, coming to Winnipeg in 1913 when she was married. She worked for the Hospital Guild for many years and was a member of St. Andrews River Heights United Church. Surviving are one son, Douglas of Montreal, three grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Madge Semple of Stellarton, Nova Scotia and Mrs. Jean Sinclair of Winnipeg, two brothers, Frank and Oliver Baxter in Massachusetts.